NAZIS, ITALY SIGN 'PACT FOR WAR'

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 22 (INS)—Binding the expanding Fascist-Nazi powers in the strongest of all post-war military alliances, Italy and Germany today signed a pact calling for hair-trigger and unquestioning armed aid in the event either is involved in a war.

The foreign ministers of both signatory powers hastened to state that in the opinion of Germany and Italy "no problems exist in Europe today which cannot be solved by negotiation."

The momentous agreement, signed by foreign ministers Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy and Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany in the presence of Chancellor Hitler, includes these points:

HITLER EN HUSIASTIC

1—Neither axis partner is to question motives or c es in case of war, but go at once to the other's assistance.

2—Neither partner may conclude a separate peace.

3—All phases of defense are covered, including general staff consultations on specific military, air, and naval problems.

4—The pact goes into effect at once, for an initial period of ten years.

With Hitler clearly showing his enthusiasm over this reply to the alleged "encirclement" tactics of Britain and France, Ciano and Von Ribbentrop made brief speeches stressing the strengthened unity between Berlin and Rome. Ciano said:

"The clear political and military obligations contained in the pact emphasize the closest relationship between the two nations, which has been brought about in order to preserve the basis for their 1000-year-old culture.

HITS "WAR-MONGERS"

Von Ribbentrop added: "Germany and Italy now form an unbreakable community. The world has to be satisfied with that. No power on earth, no agitation, can change it.

"If the Democratic war-mongers attempt to invent a complicated and mysterious system of pacts in order to encircle Germany and Italy, this alliance provides a determined answer.

"In the future the two nations will stand together, come what may. They are always prepared to extend peaceful hands to friends, but they are grimly determined to safeguard their living rights."

FUEHRER'S OUTBURST

Coincident with signing of the alliance, it was announced that a body of Italian naval officers will arrive at Kiel Wednesday for several days' inspection of warships.

Hitler sprang a surprise when he marched into Ambassadors' Hall in his new chancellery and sat on a

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, May 22—Amid scenes of the greatest possible splendor, and with all the pomp and ceremony that the Catholic Church reserves for its most important services, Archbishop-designate Francis J. Spellman will be installed as Archbishop of New York at St. Patrick's Cathedral tomorrow morning.

Tickets have been allotted for every reserved seat in St. Patrick's Cathedral. A limited number of seats are unreserved. The great edifice on Fifth avenue at 50th street is able to accommodate 7000 persons.

Other thousands of persons will jam every inch of space in the vicinity of the church to catch a glimpse of Archbishop-designate Spellman, attended by chaplains and preceded by master of ceremonies, cross bearer and acolytes, entering the Cathedral.

Fr. Cicognani

The archbishop will be met at the entrance by Right Reverend Monsignor Michael J. Lavelle, P. A. the rector.

The archbishop's first act will be to kiss in reverence and humility the crucifix that will be presented to him by the aged and loveable Monsignor Lavelle.

Archbishop Spellman will be installed as Archbishop of New York by Most Reverend Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Papal delegate to Washington.

Following a welcome by Most Reverend Stephen J. Donahue, D. D., S. T. D. Auxiliary Bishop of New York, Archbishop Spellman will make an address, to be broadcast to all parts of the world. Special radio arrangements have

GOVERNMENT RESTS CASE IN REVERE GAMBLING TRIAL

The state rested its case today in the Revere gambling conspiracy case in which 12 defendants, including former Mayor James M. O'Brien, are charged with conspiracy to set up and maintain a gambling nuisance at the North Shore Club.

Immediately afterward, counsel for nine defendants lost out in motions for directed verdicts of not guilty for their clients. When Judge Allan G. Buttrick denied the motions, the defense was rested for these nine, with no testimony offered.

4 TO DEFEND SELVES

That left only four defendants who would put in a defense—former Mayor James M. O'Brien, Police Chief Edward J. Tighe and William L. O'Brien and Timothy O'Connell, alleged proprietors of the North Shore Club.

Counsel for O'Brien was denied motions to have certain portions of testimony stricken from the record, but Judge Buttrick granted a motion to strike out one other portion.

Three witnesses, one of whom

$1,125,000 Housing Cash Here; 4700 Out

A United States Treasury check for $1,125,000 was placed today in the hands of Bradbury F. Cushing of the Boston Housing Authority to pay for model housing sites taken by right of eminent domain in Charlestown, South Boston and Roxbury.

At the same time the Boston Housing Authority, in its new role of landlord, sent eviction notices to 1279 families, including more than 4700 persons.

The families must be out of their present homes within 30 days.

THESE MUST MOVE

Those facing eviction in the Charlestown area, bounded by Decatur, Medford, Polk, Bunker Hill and Vine streets, include 676 families totalling 2700 persons.

Those in South Boston, in an area adjacent to the present Old Harbor Village housing project, include 324 families, totalling 1300 individuals.

To assist the evicted families to find new homes, the Boston Housing Authority was making arrangements today to open social service offices in each of the three districts.

PAYING THE OWNERS

Meantime, with the $1,125,000 of federal money available, Housing Authority agents began the task of paying off owners of seized land and property.

It was announced that payments would be made only after back taxes and back water bills had been settled and mortgage holders satisfied, thus insuring clear titles.

The $1,125,000 U. S. check was brought to Boston from Washington today by Walter E. Trevvette of the Federal Housing Authority.

He turned it over to Cushing at BHA headquarters in Oliver street.

20,000 Auto Men Strike

DETROIT, May 22 (AP)—Seven plants of the Briggs manufacturing Co. were closed down by a strike of the CIO United Automobile Workers today, affecting more than 20,000 men employed by Briggs and the Plymouth Division of the Chrysler Corp.

The Briggs plants closed down promptly at 9 a. m. As thousands of workers poured through the gates company watchmen turned off power and closed windows. Picket lines were established.

Kennedy Advice

Shorter Shirttails, Sox, Pants

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy suggested today that if British manufacturers would make their socks and shirts shorter and the waistlines of their trousers lower they would get more American business.

The ambassador's advice was offered "without criticism" in a luncheon talk to the American Chamber of Commerce.

"I have a feeling that American men would like these fine English socks if they could get some that did not come up to their knees," he said.

"They could also use some shirts if they didn't come down to the same place, not to mention trousers which had their waistline where God made it on a man and not in the general vicinity of the shoulder blades."

All Smile as Quins Greet King, Queen

TORONTO, May 22—Five Queens met a sixth today, and to the thrill and advantage of each, for the Dionne Quintuplets, queens of the western world, exchanged gifts with Queen Elizabeth in a private reception.

Everybody, including King George, Queen Elizabeth, the five-year-old sisters and the few others present, was smiling at the private reception.

Queen Elizabeth gave Anne, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne five little white coats she had brought them from London.

In return, the famous five sisters, who had been practicing curtsies for many days and who had, in all gravity, achieved some really comical ones, presented Queen Elizabeth with photographs of each little girl.

WIN LEGISLATORS TOO

The King and Queen were captivated by the quintuplets from Callendar, Ont., who had made the trip here in a private car their first trip away from home.

Following the private audience, the quintuplets made appearances in the Ontario Legislature, again captivating their audience and practically disrupting the usual formality of that assemblage by blowing kisses from the stage.

Never before had they been on a stage, although they have acted for movie cameras. Despite this, they displayed no evidence of stage fright before the assemblage of more than 1000 in these completely strange surroundings.

No one who was not in the lieutenant-governor's room when the delighted King and Queen and the excited quintuplets met knows exactly what occurred in the audience.

ASK FOR PRINCESSES

But there was little doubt the quins inquired eagerly about Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, about whom they have heard much, and that Queen Elizabeth told them the Princesses also were deeply interested in the quins.

The legislative chamber had been transformed into a great hall by removal of all desks. From thrones newly decorated in blue, the King and Queen received members of parliament, their wives and eight Ontario holders of the Victoria Cross.

After that the King and Queen separated. King George went to Hart House at the University of Toronto for a brief rest before luncheon. But there was no rest for Queen Elizabeth, who appeared on the north campus of the University of Toronto and presented colors to the Toronto Scottish Regiment.

But for the crowd in the Assem-

ISLA AYLESWORTH AND DETECTIVE
Leaving Police Station for Home

HAPPY FINIS--LIKE ALL GOOD STORIES

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—Thirteen-year-old Isla Aylesworth's three-day disappearance from her home in suburban Jackson Heights which precipitated an eight-state police search was for the purpose of obtaining first-hand material for a highly romantic story she is writing, according to her explanation today.

But the sympathetic, handsome young "hobo" who lured her away from home when he met her and her sister, Jean, 10, en route to the World's Fair and at whose side she slept in an open field Thursday night, abandoned her the next morning, she said.

She told authorities she spent the next two days wandering about in that area and sleeping in the open, too frightened to return home. She was found asleep in a clover patch Sunday morning behind a billboard in nearby Flushing, a tired, disheleved and hungry girl.

A medical examination disclosed Isla was unharmed and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aylesworth, who recently moved to Jackson Heights from Avalon, near Pittsburgh, when the father, an airlines employe, was transferred, said they did not wish to make a complaint against Isla's companion, if he is found.

King, Queen Slip Off for Stroll, Visit Farmer

OTTAWA, May 22 (INS)—King George and Queen Elizabeth, before they left the dominion capital to "get away from it all," chose to drive into the countryside to the village of Aylmer East. They left their car and wandered afoot down a dirt road.

Meeting a little French boy and his sister, the King and Queen asked whose farm lay alongside the road and the boy suddenly apparently recognized Their Majesties and fled, followed by his sister.

He recognized them immediately and greeted them, a bit flustered, but they set him at ease, and within a few minutes he was waxing enthusiastic about his Jersey cows, and Their Majesties were listening with respectful attention.

It was the first time since their arrival in Canada that the King and Queen had stolen off for a moment, and even this time a watchful Scotland Yard man followed at a distance.

PENDERGAST PLEADS GUILTY, $2,000,000 RACE BETS TOLD

KANSAS CITY, May 22 (AP)—Tom Pendergast, dethroned boss of the city's long powerful Democratic machine, pleaded guilty today to evading federal income taxes on $443,550.

The government, in arguments laying the basis for sentence, promptly charged he actually had evaded taxes on $1,240,746.56 since 1927 and that he bet $2,000,000 on horse racing in 1935, losing $600,000.

In defense efforts to avert a prison sentence, Pendergast's physician said a heart ailment might render abrupt death in case of a shock.

The stern-jawed Pendergast, one of the few remaining old line political bosses in the nation, looked on silently as his attorney, John G. Madden, told Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis his client desired to plead guilty to tax evasions for 1935 and 1936.

Pendergast, charged with tax evasions on $443,550 received as a payoff in a state insurance deal and on income derived through "straw men" in his business firms, threw himself on the mercy of the federal court after pleading guilty to all charges.

Judge Otis called for medical testimony concerning 66-year-old Pendergast's physical condition and for pleas by both the government and the boss' attorneys before passing sentence.

Dr. A. Sophian, Pendergast's physician for 25 years, said the deposed political czar was suffering from both intestinal and heart troubles.

Public Savings Now At 69 Billion Peak

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Cash savings of individual citizens were estimated by a Harvard professor today to be at a peak of more than $69,000,000,000.

Dr. Donald H. Davenport of the Harvard School of Business Administration told the federal monopoly committee that government aid may be necessary to protect these vast savings in future depressions.

$530 FOR EVERY PERSON

Suggesting that in the 1930 depression the government's credit was the only possible source of aid to distressed borrowers, he predicted that if another depression "threatened the solvency of our savings institutions, governmental credit would be employed in the same manner."

Dr. Davenport took issue with the argument that Americans have departed from habits of thrift and offered statistical data in support of his theory.

He included in his estimates the savings of bank depositors, members of building and loan associations, life insurance policy holders, and credits in old-age retirement or pensions systems.

The $69,000,000,000 total, he stated, was half again as large as the federal debt, as large as the entire national income in a prosperous year, and sufficient to provide each man, woman and child with $530 if evenly divided.

NOW "SAVING NATION"

"As a nation we have become savings - conscious," Davenport said.

Two-thirds of $56,500,000 held in savings institutions, he estimated, is in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. One-half that amount is held in New York state alone.

Year for 'Surgery' Doctor

Sentence of one year in the house of correction was imposed today in Middlesex superior court on Dr. John E. Vassallo, 58, of Main street, Malden, convicted last Friday on a charge of illegal surgery.

Miss Rowena Wheeler, 35, nurse at Chelsea Memorial Hospital, convicted of the same charge, was placed on probation by Judge Willford D. Gray.

In connection with the doctor, who did not take the witness stand at the trial, Judge Gray answered the plea for leniency with:

"He kept still in this case, remained silent throughout, and thereby contributed to the escape of one who might well have been at greater fault than he."

A third defendant originally in the case, Dr. Harry M. Levin, 36, of Beach street, Malden, was found not guilty by direct verdict.

This was after Miss Barbara L. Brown, 19, of Franklin street, Melrose, alleged victim of the surgery, dramatically pleaded on the stand that she loved him and declared she had accused him falsely.

GIRL SHOT AT PICNIC SINKS AS KIN HOLD PRAYER VIGIL

As her relatives wept in a "death vigil" at Framingham Union Hospital, Sophie Blaguszewski, 21, of Fifth street, Cambridge, accidentally shot at a picnic, grew weaker today each time she emerged momentarily from a coma.

The girl was accidentally wounded by a discharge of a .22 calibre rifle to halt a happy party of eight young Cambridge residents at Hurd's pond in Wayland.

Frank Bandzul, 24, of Thorndike street, East Cambridge, owner of the weapon, arrested by state police on a charge of carrying a gun on the Lord's Day, pleaded guilty in Framingham district court and was fined $20 by Judge Edward W. Blodgett.

Julia Bozak

The picnickers were lunching when the gun, from which Bandzul had just removed a clip, was being held by Julia Bozak, 20, of Newtowne court, Cambridge, and was discharged accidentally.

Sergt. Thomas McGinnis, who investigated the shooting, said it was accidental.

The other members of the picnic party were Helen Schul, 21, of Thorndike st.; Elizabeth McCusker, 19, of Tremont st., and Francis Ahern, 27, Patrick Creedon, 31, and Frank Ladue, 24, all of Thorndike st., East Cambridge.

The wounded girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Blaguszewski, has been employed as a waitress in a South Station restaurant. She is a sister of "Joe" Blaggie, Marathon runner.

Her parents, two brothers and several other relatives have been at the hospital praying constantly amidst sobs for the girl's recovery.

TRAGEDY gripped happy Wayland picnic when Sophie Blaguszewski, 21, of Fifth street, Cambridge, shown here, was accidentally shot in the head with a rifle. At Framingham Union Hospital she was given almost no chance for recovery.

900 Police to Guard Derby Against Bombs

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—Precautions were taken today against possibility of bombing Britain's greatest horse race—the derby at Epsom Downs Wednesday.

About 900 uniformed policemen will be supplemented by 24-hour shifts of plain clothes detectives.

A wave of bombing has been attributed to the Irish Republican Army.

Iron Lunger Reaches France, Shrine Bound

LE HAVRE, France, May 22 (AP)—Fred B. Snite, Jr., "the man in the iron lung," arrived today aboard the liner Normandie on his 5000-mile pilgrimage to the shrine of the Virgin Mary at Lourdes.

The indomitable paralysis victim rested in his mechanical respirator as workmen began unloading heavy special equipment brought for him.

Besides his father, mother and sister, he was accompanied by eight women nurses, two male nurses and a supervisor, a respirator expert and a physician.

Snite's father said his son had stood the trip across the Atlantic "better than the rest of us," feeling no uneasiness during the one rough day of the crossing.

He said the patient had great hopes that he might find religious inspiration at the shrine in the Pyrenees where thousands of pilgrims have reported restoration of health.

"I hope the Blessed Mother approves the arrangements we have made," Snite's father quoted him as saying.

Members of the party estimated the cost of the trip in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Find Professor Dead; Wife, 3 Men Sought

BERKELEY, Cal., May 22 (AP)—The nude body of Virgil H. Cherry, 32, assistant professor in mechanical engineering at the University of California, was found on a bed at his home today.

Police Inspector O. M. Thompson said no mark of violence was on the body other than a slight bruise on the nose, but the house was a "shambles."

Bedding was strewn on the floor, furniture was overturned, and a chandelier torn from the ceiling.

Police sought for questioning Cherry's wife, Mrs. Jacqueline Cherry, and three men who, neighbors reported, had visited the house.

The neighbors called police when four-year-old Diane Williams, stepdaughter of the professor, came to one of them, saying she had been sent by her mother to "send a telegram" to her father in Portland, Ore.

See Delay In Backus Ouster

Required rulings on 50 disputed points of law seemed likely to prevent final action by the state public utilities commission today in ouster proceedings against Securities Division Director John H. Backus.

Attorney Joseph A. Scalponetti, counsel for Backus, filed formal request for the legal rulings.

According to the governor, his motives in urging elimination of the securities or "Blue Sky" division of the department of public utilities were "impugned" by Backus.

Chairman Francis M. McKeown of the public utilities commission called a meeting of his colleagues late today.

DEL GROSSO, AIDES ACQUITTED IN RAID

Scoring a triumph over state and local police he charged with "persecuting him" former Revere City Councilor Joseph Del Grosso, proprietor of the "Open Door," Broadway, Revere, night club, was exonerated today of alleged liquor law violations.

A sealed verdict, returned by a Suffolk superior court jury and read before Judge James M. Hurley, found five defendants, including Del Grosso, not guilty of late-hour liquor sales.

ALL ARE ACQUITTED

Chief witnesses for the prosecution during the Del Grosso trial were two state troopers, who testified they "picked up" girl companions in Scollay square and entertained them at early morning drinking parties in the "Open Door."

Revere and state police subsequently raided the night club, arresting Del Grosso, his brother, Dario; Mrs. Frances Engle, a waitress; John Mannion, a waiter, and Philip Marconi, the bartender.

All were freed by today's verdict.

Testifying in his own defense during the trial, former City Councilor Del Grosso charged that Revere police set out to "get" him after he punched a police sergeant in 1932 for entering his home without a warrant.

CHARGED "FRAME-UPS"

The "feud" continued for seven years, he said, with police vainly attempting to "frame" him on repeated occasions.

The name of James Preston, sought as the accused slayer of Louis Gaeta, Revere "racket boss," was brought into the trial.

Yankee Clipper Lands in France

MARSEILLE, France, May 22 (AP)—The Yankee Clipper alighted here today at 3:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m., Boston time) completing its first regularly-scheduled commercial flight across the Atlantic.

The giant flying boat, carrying mail but no commercial passengers, settled down slowly near the flying boat dock at Marignane air base where a group of French and American officials waited to greet the crew.

Its arrival had been delayed almost two hours by a detour to skirt storms over southern France after it had "turned the corner of Spain" to fly eastward over the Prenees on the final leg of the flight from Lisbon, Portugal.

Hunt Maine Youth In Woods Mystery

SKOWHEGAN, Me., May 22 — Search was pressed today for Sherwood Leo, 19, of Skowhegan, feared lost in dense woods near Wellington. A posse was organized when two companions said Leo had failed to meet them at a designated spot during a fishing trip.

RETURNS BOOK VET LOST IN '18

A prayer book, lost by an American soldier on a French battlefield more than 20 years ago, was mailed back to him today by Vice-Commander William C. McElroy of Watertown Post, American Legion.

The owner of the book was finally found after an unremitting search carried on by veterans' groups here.

HELPED BY PRAYERS

Long disabled by arthritis, Shore believes his condition has improved lately, due to his prayers. Prospective return of his lost prayer book he regards as a further omen of his eventual recovery.

The prayer book was found near Stenay, France, Jan. 5, 1919, by John T. Sullivan of Cambridge with the A. E. F.

An inscription on the flyleaf read:

"William Lawrence Shore, Bird Island, Minneapolis, July 14, 1918, from Mother."

Finally Sullivan turned the prayer book over to his brother-in-law, Frank Sharkey of Watertown, and Sharkey passed it to Legion Vice Commander McElroy, a Watertown fire department captain.

SENDS HIS THANKS

McElroy enlisted aid of postmasters, Legion heads and town clerks in a score of communities near Bird Island. From one of them, he learned at last Shore's address.

A letter from Shore, received by McElroy today, read in part:

"The years 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937 were very sad for me. I have been disabled by arthritis since I came back from the war. I think my prayers have helped me lately.

"I will appreciate it very much if you will send me the prayer book. I am enclosing postage. Thanking you for your kindness, and may God bless you."

Defense Opens In Revere Trial

had been recalled, were on the stand for the state.

State Police Lieutenant Raymond L. Foley testified he had a conversation with Joseph Gauthier in January, 1938, at the Metropolitan police station in Revere.

STATE POLICE RECALLED

According to the witness, Gauthier admitted he was retained by William L. O'Brien to do carpenter work in the reconstruction of the North Shore Garage for use as a club.

Gauthier, according to the police lieutenant, said Timothy O'Connell and John Procus were with Gauthier and O'Brien when the former figured out the job at the garage.

Gauthier said he gave a list of materials needed to Procus, and that for his subsequent carpenter work in the garage he was paid $1 an hour for about two weeks, Foley testified.

Corroborating testimony was given by State Police Lieutenant Theodore Johnson, now bodyguard for Governor Saltonstall, who said he was present during the conversation.

Recalled to the stand, State Police Sergeant George Alexander again testified that he obtained a warrant to raid the club at about 1 or 1:30 p. m. February 20, 1937, in the office of Judge Paul J. MacDonald of Chelsea district court.

BLAZE KILLS 2

TORRINGTON, Ct., May 22 (INS)—Apparently overcome by smoke while they slept, two men were burned to death today when fire caused damage to a three-family house. They were Domonico Pergala, 60, and Giacomino Maggeroti, 65.

Tax Group Assailed In Solons' Pay Fight

Referring to Norman MacDonald and other officials of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers as "glorified, colossal fakers," Alexander F. Sullivan, former state representative from East Boston, caused a commotion today at the State House hearing on a bill of Representative Roland D. Sawyer adjusting legislative salaries.

Sullivan spoke in favor of Sawyer's measure that legislators be paid $200 per year for the present 1939-1940 biennial session and that they bepaid $3000 for every two years thereafter. Members of the Taxpayers' Federation were present to oppose the bill on the grounds that the legislators would be in session one year out of every two and should be paid accordingly.

To the ways and means committee, before whom the bill was under discussion, Sullivan, speaking of the federation members, said:

"They don't come in here with honest hands. They should come in here with clean hands. Don't worry about MacDonald—he'll never be governor. I hope this committee will report favorably on the bill."

He was interrupted by Representative William Bacon of Newton, member of the committee, who said:

"Let's refrain from attacking anyone. Let's leave out personalities and talk on the bill."

Sawyer, together with several other legislators, advocated his bill on the grounds that they do much related work in their own districts during the off season and that no other state in the Union allows its legislators to sit in session so many days in a year.

STATE-WIDE MOTHER HUNT

CONFER OVER RAIL SHUTDOWN

Governor Leverett Saltonstall's special transportation committee conferred today with Professor William J. Cunningham of Harvard, preparatory to public hearings beginning tomorrow in Gardner Auditorium on the threatened shutdown on the Old Colony Railroad.

The Harvard transportation authority has been investigating the plan of the Old Colony to abandon 50 more stations on the South Shore and Cape Cod and has devised measures to supply new substitute transportation in the affected areas.

Meanwhile, mayors, selectmen and civic leaders readied their separate proposals to save passenger service for their communities. They are to appear at tomorrow's hearing.

At the same time, commuters in the districts to be shut down were assured by railroad officials that no change in service will come for at least three months and that present schedules will be held to throughout the summer.

TOBIN HAS 38TH BIRTHDAY

Mayor Tobin today celebrated his 38th birthday—his second since he became one of the youngest mayors in the city's history—but the observance was cut short as he and Mrs. Tobin prepared to leave this afternoon for New York city to take part in the elevation ceremonies tomorrow for Archbishop Francis J. Spellman.

On awakening the mayor was greete dwith a prepared song by his three children, Helen Louise, 5½, Carol Ann, 4, and Maurice, Jr., 1½.

As he descended the stairs of his home, they presented him a flowered necktie with a sky-blue background, choice of the little girls themselves.

On learning their daddy was going to New York, the children were disappointed, but the mayor promised them they would have a real birthday party Wednesday night on his return. Meanwhile, he ordered an ice cream birthday cake sent to them for tonight.

The first gift he received when he reached his office at City Hall comprised two dozen golf balls from the Boston Housing Authority.

Later, his entire office staff, headed by Secretary Cornelius A. Reardon, gathered in his private office and extended him their greetings. On their behalf Reardon presented him with a vase containing 38 red roses.

Mrs. Tobin will give him a surprise gift on their way to New York tonight.

Wait Berlin Move In Danzig Killing

DANZIG, May 22 (AP)—Danzig eyed Berlin today for reaction to the killing of a German citizen of Danzig by a Pole in the first fatal border incident of current Polish-German tension.

Whether the slaying would have serious repercussions depended more upon Berlin and Warsaw than upon the city.

Marian Chodacki, Polish commissioner to Danzig, reported the incident directly to the Polish embassy in Berlin and it was understood that Danzig Nazis were in close touch with German officials.

Officers of the Free City said measures had been taken to preserve the peace of mob action against Polish customs officials [illegible] and followed the killing of Kalbert in Free City territory opposite Marienburg, East Prussia.

[illegible] the Danzig Senate and Polish consular officials to determine [illegible] had made on each other [illegible] Danzig police after the incident, two versions of which differed widely.

TWO FACTS ADMITTED

Two facts were admitted. That Gustav Kalbert, a Kashubian [illegible] was [illegible] and killed early yesterday by the Polish chauffeur of Tadeusz Lesniewski, Polish undersecretary to Danzig. A mob [illegible] before a building in Danzig where Polish customs officials [illegible]

Homes are like People

Like charming people, the charming home must reflect the warmth, the good taste, the gracious hospitality and friendly personality of its owner.

Everybody WANTS this kind of a home; comparatively few achieve it.

"Price" has nothing whatever to do with the matter. I speak from years and years of experience, with the background of untold thousands of homes furnished, believe me.

YOU can have exactly the type of home you want—one that will provide the best background for gracious living, the best environment for growing children—at ANY given price within your means.

What we have done for countless others we can do for you. There are those whose furnishings have run above $2,000 . . . and those where three rooms had to be done to the queen's taste within $200 on extended terms. The same amount of intelligence, experience and enthusiasm always has been devoted equally to both kinds, and those in between.

I'm always far more interested in how well we do our job for you than in the amount involved. Why not drop in some day and see how we can help?

★BE AMERICAN

THIS NEW COUNTRY that is America was built on the vision, the courage, the energy and the faith of individual A— —ns.

This America was NOT built and developed on WPA projects—it did not become great, it did not grow wealthy by pump priming through a bountiful pension system; it is not what it is today as a result of regimentation of business and industry.

Today—as all during the history of this country—it is the ALL BUSINESS which employs the labor, which PRODUCTIVELY uses the capital that MAINTAINS the nation as the most powerful, the most productive and, notwithstanding the Roosevelt recession, the most prosperous nation in the world.

Those practices that gave growth and meaning to the life of this nation can be summed up in one word: BUSINESS.

All of us are in business—whether we are merchant, industrialist, manufacturer, editor, farmer, service station operator or wage earner.

All business is based on effort and enterprise, energy and thought—on raising products, selling products, manufacturing products—and so directing our abilities that our efforts will be profitable to us, and to those with whom we are associated.

All life, from the cradle to the grave, is a BUSINESS of balancing the budget of "making ends meet"—and of laying something aside for a rainy day or a greater undertaking.

That is why men of sound achievements and honest, practical purpose speak in behalf of ALL BUSINESS, they are speaking in your behalf as well as in their own.

IN SAN FRANCISCO the other day, C. M. Chester, chairman of General Foods, Inc., made this statement to the National Association of Manufacturers:

"One-fifth of our present generation has come into the majority since 1929. They've never seen BUSINESS-CREATED PROSPERITY. Deluded by ISMS, they doubt the present and yearn for an economic Utopia made over night, where care vanishes and one can vote himself security.

"But those who are not blind know that it is industrial activity that makes jobs and spells prosperity.

"REAL PROSPERITY CAN NEVER BE LEGISLATED INTO BEING OR CONJURED INTO BEING BY A MAGICIAN STANDING ON A SOAP BOX . . . AND I AM PERSUADED THAT WHEN 130,000,000 PEOPLE KNOW THEIR TRUE STAKE IN THE BUSINESS SYSTEM THEY'LL DO A PERFECTLY FINE, SELFISH JOB OF PRESERVING IT, BECAUSE THAT IS THEIR ONLY WAY OF MAKING A LIVING."

After ten years of down grade this nation wants recovery more than anything else in the world—unless it's peace.

But as Mr. Chester reminds the nation, too many people are trying to tear down what it took years of hard work and skill and daring to build.

THE CITY OF BOSTON, and all the other great cities of the United States were not built on planned economy or on the government deficits.

Their streets were built by the toil and skill and daring of your grandfathers, of your fathers and of your own.

They were built by individual initiative, by vision, by courage, by hard work and by faith in the future.

These great railroads that span the continent, these great skyscrapers, these large and small stores, these hotdog stands and these farms and ranches didn't emerge and grow from some Washington bureau.

Instead, they were conceived and they were brought into being by personal effort.

ALL BUSINESS is personal effort. All BUSINESS is concerned with finding a better job today than it did yesterday.

Whether you are owner, boss or janitor, your destiny is entwined in the same pattern.

If the owner makes money he can pay neither boss nor janitor a cent unless he has what helps one helps all.

[illegible] is the inexplicable, ever-undefined method and system that governs YOUR life and the life of EVERY ONE.

That is why present BUSINESS, as characterized by Mr. Chester, must have lower taxes and more assurance—for the future as well as the green light "GO" signal prosperity necessary for all of us.

The incident is not unrelated to other recent developments in the stock exchanges. The fact is that these practitioners of a bloodless and statistical art are mellowing quite noticeably.

Within the last few weeks we have noted the start of the first large-scale good-will advertising by stock exchange firms, seeking to enlighten the public on what the exchange is, how it works and how it performs a necessary and useful service in our complicated economics.

SENATOR O'MAHONEY
His Committee Probably Knows

THE GENTLEMEN of the O'Mahoney Committee if they should speak their inner convictions—probably could inform the President as to what must be done to recovery without causing a witness other than themselves.

It certainly would seem that every intelligent person must know by this time that the existing paralysis resulting in economic stagnation and a continuation of an appalling unemployment of workers, is due to fear of the [illegible]

It was Mr. Roosevelt who took America off the gold standard and has kept it off.

Mr. Roosevelt devalued the dollar, and accumulated a hoard of 14 billions or more in gold, to be used eventually nobody knows how.

Mr. Roosevelt has in his possession at this moment for Thomas Amendment to the old A. A. A. Act, authorizing him to issue $3,000,000,000 in fiat money. He has said he would not consent to its repeal. That threat of inflation hangs like what's-his-name's sword over American industry and business.

Huge squanderings of borrowed money, obtained from the banks under what amounts to forced loans, a national debt already at the legal limit of $45,000,000,000, the appointment of radicals to the highest offices in the land, the disclosure that Communists and "fellow travelers" are in many important places—all these have sent frightened money into safe hiding in bank vaults.

Hate taxes, and unsound systems of taxation, have deprived business under the New Deal of almost all hope of earning profits. Capital for new industries has dried up.

ALL THESE, to mention but a few, are among those which are keeping men, machines and money from striving shoulder to shoulder in a common effort to check the depression, defeat the panic, and restore prosperity.

PAULETTE GODDARD WEIGHS TRIP

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, May 22—Here's information ALEXANDER WOOLLCOTT: "The social set at Louisville, Ky., doesn't expect to see you back in a big way," because at the swanky Southern dinner there when you were asked to name the greatest man living you replied: "Paul Robeson." CHARLES CHAPLIN: Paulette Goddard wants to come East this summer, to Great Neck and appear in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes"... BROADWAY ASSOCIATION: Some years ago the Earl Carroll Theater was transformed into a theater-restaurant and now is known as the Casa Manana. Billy Leeds sees it that juice closed Saturday night. Recently Earl Carroll started negotiations to try and get it back.

L. B. MAYER: Your studio refuses to show the novel script of "It Can't Happen Here" to Sidney Howard, who wrote it.

MAYOR LaGUARDIA: Frank Graham, who has vacationed in N. Y. for the last ten years, is hurried to Paris yesterday after a letter arrived. He won't be back because he thinks it's a dull place now and the Earl is married.

EQUITY: Mrs. Coburn, the ex-Ziegfeld star, is to be Mrs. Morton Downey's successor in Jerry Cooper's "Hold Your Horses" Gardens. Says Mrs. Coburn: "I'm going to rehearse every day, but I'm not expected to look."

• • •

ADOLF HITLER: Charlie Chaplin was discussing Hitler's Easter Egg on Lindy's roof and he said: "He has been in power for four years and he still doesn't know that the Jews have no hair on their chests."

• • •

KATHALINE HEPBURN: Van Heflin, who appears in your play, Jed Harris', "The Joyous Season," went to sea — working aboard a schooner for the Newfoundland banks. He was assigned to hold the course but couldn't manage the wheel properly. His captain came on deck, looked at the ship's wake, which curved in and out for miles and then said: "Heflin, I don't mind you writing your name in the ocean—but please don't try to go back and dot the 'i'."

FANNIE BRICE

KING GEORGE VI: Your visit sent Sinclair Lewis to thinking of what would happen if America became a royalist country and bestowed titles upon its distinguished subjects. "I've selected my title already," said Lewis, referring to his native town. "I'll be Lord Sauk Center"... ELSA MAXWELL: Mrs. William M. Clark of the Social Register has composed and copyrighted a number of popular songs. Mrs. Clark, wife of the banker, sings them only to her family.

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Several persons are having a time of it because the World's Fair undeniably has gotten off to a miserable start... Nevertheless this writer wishes to add its two cents worth to the general debate and advance the reasons for the fall in Grover A. Whalen's life. The World's Fair publicity was [illegible] and too much given to the use of the name of Grover A. Whalen.

WITH THE FAIR issuing its estimated attendance records by a hundred thousand or so a day, there was bound to be a backlash. Mr. Whalen is now being made the target of many a wordy dart; many of them are well aimed. Some say his name is not drawing them in. Charles King, the Milton showman, was recently a contestant by some New York writer to the centerpieces of the tryptych and periphery, symbols of the Fair. Grover A. Whalen's cuestick and goatee, was the New York writers definition of the T and P. Secondly so much attention has been paid to the science side of the great exposition that the general public [illegible] a visit to Flushing as an [illegible] exercise such as it might catalogue a trip to an [illegible] or a struggle with a good book. Fair Week: Fairs have been given a carnival air, often either by showmanly ballyhoo or through such attractions as Little Egypt or Sally Rand or both. The Fair needs a sure attraction (non-scientific). Lucy Fairs Aquacade was counted on to be the [illegible]. But it will take at least Gypsy and Jumbo.

Model Missteps: For a prototype of Sunday's column about the presidential Governor James M. Cox moving to Nevada for a seat in the Senate from that [illegible] state was not the "meteor" that [illegible] as the former Governor has managed to roll between 50,000 and 100,000 votes at [illegible] across the land. Last contests for political office in Massachusetts he was always the [illegible] candidate on the ticket and...

The [illegible] loss of Lucius Hill was [illegible] impressive. As an [illegible] Secretary, presented the Governor's Cup to Henry Armour at Suffolk Downs. Just [illegible] that [illegible] with [illegible] for personal [illegible] Massachusetts he was always the [illegible] candidate on the ticket and [illegible] a well-backed favorite but it was [illegible] a nipper whom greeted the Chief Executive... Mr. Curley got expansive it seemed, directly after the Saint Patrick presentation.

IT WAS a good time to pop a question.

"Is there any truth, Governor," I asked him, "in the report that you are planning to settle near your old gold mine in Nevada and try for the U. S. Senate in 1940?"

His answer came immediately.

"Nevada requires only six weeks residence of a candidate for office," he replied... So maybe we can conclude that he has been actually giving the matter some thought... Anyway, the "Curley luck" is being featured on cards the former governor is distributing... They show his picture, his name as president, and the name of his new business, "Curley Luck Gold Mining Corp."... Four mountains, or hills, Dry Gulch, Navahoe Vicksburg and Ashdown, are pictured... And underneath the hills, drawn in gold ink, is the legend "Thar's Gold in Them Thar Hills"... James M. Curley, thrice licked in three starts, retains his sense of fun.

Frank Craven

HOLLYWOOD, May [illegible]—Frank Craven will be back in Hollywood [illegible] to report to Paramount for [illegible] with Fay Bainter in "Our Neighbors the Carters." The star who was last seen [illegible] "Our Town" signed the contract [illegible] after the closing performance of [illegible] Craven, who has had a world of [illegible] made a movie since [illegible] in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" [illegible] his appearance in the [illegible] Warner picture Hollywood [illegible].

SIMONE SIMON

Ilona Massey is getting great score by [illegible] for her graduation in [illegible] role. It will be as popular as the Judge Hardy stories.

• • •

YOUNG TIM HOLT, 21-year-old son of Jack gets his biggest role so far as one of Ginger Rogers' [illegible] in "My Fifth Avenue Girl." Gregory La Cava, who will direct and produce, says Tim cut quite a figure [illegible] as the dashing leader of the cavalry in "Stagecoach" and decided to give the [illegible] role. For a while [illegible] Tim might follow [illegible] footsteps saying [illegible] westerns but this city [illegible] may turn the tide [illegible] dramatic parts.

• • •

TYRONE POWER and Annabella are going to get that six-[illegible] man after all right [illegible] Reno. "The Rains [illegible] Rose after a Honolulu [illegible] Ty returns to [illegible] Alpha Alpha, which [illegible] the problems of to-[illegible] with.

JIMMY GAGNEY'S got a "for sale" sign on his yacht, The Martha; Mrs. Gary Cooper was the "champ" at the bowling party including Fred and Lillian MacMurray and Tyrone Power and Annabella. Saturday night Alex D'Arcy and Arleen Whelan are playing hearts and flowers again, all made up after their recent spat. I think L. O. P. was right in her hunch that all is not going too well between Jean Parker and George MacDonald, but Jean's dodging telephone calls.

LISTEN, WORLD!

What Do You Want Out of Life?

By Elsie Robinson

LIFE DOESN'T owe you anything. Get over this idea that the world owes you a living. The world doesn't owe you a darn thing. The world doesn't owe you health or wealth or happiness or even civil consideration.

You came into this world a beggar. With no more actual personal rights than a turnip. And you will go out of it ditto unless you hustle.

YOU GET OUT OF THE WORLD EXACTLY WHAT YOU CAN TAKE OUT OF IT—AND NOTHING MORE.

"But some people are born rich and influential," you say.

YOU'RE WRONG. Some people are born with riches and influence adjacent to them. But such assets won't do them any good unless they make them do them good.

They will remain merely scenery. A man may possess a bankbook and a family tree and yet be an empty husk himself—unless he has the spunk to fill his husk for himself.

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief—we're all in the same boat when we hit this trail.

WE'RE ALL ON OUR OWN.

And we all must make our own terms with life.

The game is up to YOU. It is as much up to you as it was up to your great-great grandpa when he roamed the edge of a Pleistocene swamp and chewed his mammoth raw.

You live in a modern city and he lived in a primeval jungle. But you've got [illegible] and he didn't.

AND IF YOU THINK THAT THE OTHER CHAP IS GOING TO MIND YOUR BUSINESS FOR YOU, YOU'RE PLAIN CRAZY!

SO STOP [illegible]. Decide to [illegible] you.
Or [illegible].
Or be [illegible].
Or clear [illegible] for you.

There's no excuse to do anything to their own knitting without passing up your crippled sisters.

So cut out the [illegible].
The resentment at [illegible].
The alibis and excuses and sentimental evasions.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND WHAT YOU REALLY WANT OUT OF LIFE.

FACE THE FACT THAT YOU, ALONE, ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR GETTING THAT THING FOR YOURSELF.

THEN GO AFTER IT!

North Shore Arrival

THE EXCITING Adams Cup races on the Charles River Saturday were a starter for a round of tea and dinner dances which provided a merry program till the midnight curfew.

After watching the crew races from the Hotel Sheraton Roof, where a tea dance was held in the late afternoon, many of the dancers made a quick change into evening togs and went down to the North Shore for an evening of fun at the first Saturday night party of the season at the Casino in Marblehead . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Preston, a recent bridal couple, were week-end guests of the former's mother in Hamilton, and received the toasts of many friends at a party at the Casino . . . Carbonated Beverages Offer New Menu Ideas

By MARTHA LEE

Have you purchased a supply of carbonated beverages for the family this week? Or do you ask why "this week" when they are used everywhere throughout the year?

[illegible] is National Bottled Carbonated Beverage Week.

Carbonated beverages offer practical ideas for simple formal needs or for refreshments for guests for informal dinners or afternoon [illegible]

The recipes are for easily prepared beverages and dishes. Most of them can be prepared ahead of time and [illegible] when desired. The help solve the problem of preparing [illegible] an attractive meal in a very short time.

MENU

Assorted Sandwiches

Punch for Little Parties

Cheese Wafers

Cheese and Jam Cake Ices

Strawberry Parfaits

Iced Tea

APPLE A LA KING:

[illegible] apples

[illegible] tablespoons melted butter

[illegible] cup chopped pecans

[illegible] cup chopped dates

[illegible] cup sugar

[illegible] cup cream sauce

Dr. cubes [illegible]

Pare and core the apples. Mix melted butter with pecans, dates and sugar. Fill center of apples with this mixture and arrange [illegible] shallow baking dish. To remaining [illegible] add lemon juice and sugar. Pour around apples and bake until tender, basting frequently. Serves 6.

PUNCH FOR LITTLE PARTIES

½ cup sugar

[illegible] cups grape carbonated beverage

2 cups orange carbonated beverage

Maraschino cherries

Dissolve sugar in juice. Pour [illegible] beverages and dilute with [illegible] water. Add cherries and [illegible] into punch bowl. Makes 14 [illegible]

TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL

2 cups strained tomato juice

[illegible] cup chopped lettuce

4 tablespoons chopped chives (or scallions)

[illegible] cup chopped celery

[illegible] teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

[illegible] teaspoon salt

1 cup lemon carbonated beverage

Ice cubes and parsley stand in tomato juice for three hours. Strain and add seasonings. Chill thoroughly and add lemon beverage when [illegible] has been chilled. Shake or stir and serve in glasses surrounded by shaved ice. Makes [illegible] glasses.)

EXQUISITE SALAD

1 tablespoon gelatine

¾ cup bottle carbonated beverage of orange, lemon or grape flavor

¾ cup crushed pineapple

¾ cup sliced peaches

¼ cup Maraschino cherries

½ cup shredded cocoanut

½ cup [illegible]

2 bananas

Soak gelatine [illegible] water and dissolve [illegible] water. Add [illegible] gradually [illegible] into [illegible] mixture [illegible] pan [illegible] layers. Serve [illegible] on lettuce.

'THE YOUNG MR. LINCOLN'

ABE ENDS RAW

"Gentlemen and Boa citizens," he said, without any attempt at gestures or other oratorical trimmings. "I presume you all know who I am. I'm plain Abraham Lincoln. I have been solicited by many of my friends to become a candidate for the Legislature.

"My political views," he went on in the same expressionless tone, "are short and sweet, like the old woman's dance. I am in favor of a national bank, the internal improvement system, and a high protective tariff.

"These are my sentiments," he told them. "If elected, I shall be thankful. If not, you will be. It's all the same."

"WHY THAT'S—LAW"

"But we need you here."

"I'm not worth much."

Boston Nightclubs Cashing in As Tardy Spring Fills Tables

By GEORGE HOLLAND

IF THE LAST WIND continues to make nightclub going the popular pastime it has been this tardy spring, this week might be as good as a date next fall to take in the performances of a pair of young men named Newell and Stager at the Melody Lounge of the famous Coconnut Grove.

With the calendar cagged with openings, two new roof shows and the International Casino premiere in New York Monday night, it is reasonable to suppose there won't be much doing here, but there is to remind it again that a couple of hometown boys are making fun for the folks in the nether reaches of the Grove. They are Newell and Stager, who worth your attention.

And the Melody Lounge is a cozy and restful place with a complete lack of competition where the weather figures make it preferable to dine and dance. You comfort.

CHANGES AT SHERATON

And now to the new Shawmut Street. The changes in new striped awnings over the handsome new Ruby Newman orchestra [illegible] the first time Thursday night. The canvas this season will be used to cover the entire roof, winter and summer, and a section of the theatre's sky floor was provided for in event [illegible]

Under the awnings at the Sheraton this season are a flock of geraniums and more recent tables covering the early chairs . . . Those who were occupied completely the other day afternoon when the Harvard visitors to the Adams Cup regatta crowded in for a race for celebration by those crew Harvard [illegible] who [illegible] Manager Spencer L. Sawyer decided to open the [illegible] season for an official event.

CHAPS BACK HOME

Not among the Ivy Style road hotels now attracting [illegible] Manager Sawyer himself had [illegible] this year [illegible] admitted and liked Mr. Saw ex when he was on the staff of the Copley Plaza on Wednesday night the West [illegible] Trotter Trail and the official press [illegible] with Karl Rhodes ex cellent hand, and a lithe young singer named Duaine Demas, who is advance reports say very good.

The Westminster has been established to get [illegible] than its rivals, and has had an unbroken [illegible] since the days of the Bull Market and before . . . Of course, the beautiful purlieus of the Ritz Carlton's upper reaches have been opened [illegible]

[illegible] WAIT FULL RETURNS

Full returns weren't in last night, but the record or near-record, was a fact . . . The comical maestro will be present all week and lacking a representative for ex or a dust-storm this week should be a honey [illegible] one . . . Cobina Wright Jr., the New York post-deb has quickly [illegible] the attention and love of the Boston younger set . . . And the older sets too . . . The kid can sing and she is very very nice to survey . . .

After Herman next Monday will come Woody Herman, then Hal Kemp, and the papers have just been signed guaranteeing the appearance of Duke Ellington and his men at the Ritz beginning July 2 . . . Jesse [illegible] Kemp and Ellington will be Jerry Goodman.

The International Casino opens has a [illegible] exclusively Boston [illegible] Alex Finn, owner of the Mayfair and the Cape's Casa Madrid, is the proprietor, and Ramy Weeks of the leaders of the band . . . Harry Richman and Dixie Dunbar starred in the [illegible] show, Hello Leave it to Me.

NEW ENGLAND NIGHT"

And so on [illegible] this news and that . . . At least [illegible] Lawrence will be present [illegible] Jimmy Kemp [illegible] night debut . . . The Sunday [illegible] as a matter of fact, is being advertised as New England Night.

Mr. Finn says that all a Boston [illegible] to see one of those downtown [illegible] is an idea [illegible] that this [illegible] . . . Major Tobey [illegible] present . . . As a matter of fact he is already a New York [illegible] although another [illegible] his presence.

TOP FLIGHT PROGRAM

The Latin Quarter has one of its [illegible] and exciting shows and in these top flight programs have been [illegible] long in an unbroken [illegible] Lou Walters took over the [illegible] Towne Club, it [illegible] remember [illegible] pure it all to good luck.

The clever young showman, as [illegible] the [illegible] of talent, belongs in the first rank of cabaret entrepreneurs. He knows an act when he sees one and is capable of booking his attractions without benefit of agents.

The Crawford House you dine [illegible] and sip there "under the stars" this year too has the Blackstone Twins the beautiful Blackstone Twins and Russ Howard as master of ceremonies . . . Russ was always funny in this role better, and he owns a loyal following which gives him real commercial value . . . Again, we close with a word that our favorite, Peter Higgins is the star of the Brown Derby entertaining revue.

'SUSPICIOUS' OVER U. S. VISIT BY KING

WASHINGTON, May 22 (INS)—Rep. George H. Tinkham (R.) of Massachusetts, veteran foe of foreign entanglements, today asked whether the visit of the King and Queen of England to the United States was [illegible] entente or military understanding [illegible] of "practical accord" has in effect been [illegible] between Great Britain and [illegible] country.

He urged President [illegible] tary of State Hull [illegible] more cautious [illegible] tion of neutrality [illegible] fluous and reassuring [illegible] that the United States [illegible] peace and any of the [illegible] pire."

Warning that the King and Queen be received with [illegible] and respect," Tinkham said that [illegible] visit as the first of the [illegible] of Great Britain's [illegible] was discovered.

"History reveals that the various royal visits to France almost invariably were accompanied by political commitments and frequently followed by war," said Tinkham.

LOANS up to $1000 or more

Ask Yourself These Questions . . . Before You Borrow

Before you borrow . . . stop and ask yourself:

Is the loan necessary?

Is the cost reasonable?

Is payment on a convenient, systematic basis?

Will these payments establish my credit with a leading bank?

Do I have the benefit of life insurance protection at no extra cost during the life of the loan?

This old New England institution urges that no one go into debt unnecessarily, but, when you need money, you may be sure of prompt, friendly, and confidential service through the Shawmut Bank Personal Loan Plan. You may borrow up to $1000 or more at a cost of only $5 per $100 per year. Apply at the main office or any of our sixteen branches.

The Paddock Club: Suffolk's Sky Society

MAYBE YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT THIS, but the ultra-utmost in Boston's horse-nobility is quarantined on the top deck of Suffolk Down's clubhouse. This is a little bit of horse-heaven in which the fastidious gambling minority enjoy a maximum of leg-spread in close communion with the skies and sip their nerve tonics remote from the steerage horde.

AUSTEN LAKE

It costs $65 to join this select circle. But lest you imagine that mere possession of the initiation fee entitles you to squat under the parti-colored parasols, rub elbows with cellophane wrapped people and order broken-English butlers to bring nickeled coolers with golden bottlenecks protruding from the shaved ice, you aren't upstairs yet. Dear me, No! The mere absence of character stains, such as police blotter records, won't get you past the doorman.

No Siree! If you are not addicted to fishing for cocktail olives with your nude fingers. If you don't employ double negatives in your grammar. If you don't root home your horses with vulgar grunts. And if you have that je-ne-sais-quoi, a genteel flourish and a sockful of rubles—why then you might be eligible. You might!

* * *

Three Classes of Horse Society

THE OBJECT OF THE PADDOCK CLUB, now in its fourth season as to make race-going painless for O.K. people and to spare the members from profane rubbings against halitosis society in the betting queues of four-flusher parties peddling hum steers in the paddock arcade.

The Paddock Club has air-rubber doughnuts aloft where the zephyrs blow fresh from Revere Beach, and where obsequious agents of the management do the betting for the members, thus eliminating the necessity of standing in the queues, the tellers, wickets and fingering filthy money [illegible] business last.

Thus there are three distinct superlative race classes at Suffolk Downs. Of which the lowest group [illegible] the all-essential 2 buck bettor, who seldom gets to the [illegible] grow up privileges on the left and right sides of the paddock. Indeed if Suffolk was a Southern track, there would be a "white" and "colored" section where the Negro element [illegible] proud to be [illegible] in the remote sections with [illegible] and mint-juleps [illegible]. Because of a race track space is [illegible] [illegible] in proportion to the [illegible] expects to spend and the Southern Negro has the [illegible] and [illegible] of an undernaturalized [illegible] gambling fever.

Second group at Suffolk are the folk who have membership [illegible] and pay a little more for to sit on unfastened chairs and the clothes horses of both sexes in the clubhouse. But [illegible] the Paddock that what [illegible] the [illegible] gels. There is nothing [illegible] to paradise.

* * *

U. S. Loves Class Distinction

THIS TENDENCY TOWARD SELECTIVE grouping, supposedly a European idea, is nearer to the American heart than our citizens would wish to admit. Even in that varmint of all sport, the heavyweight prize fight, appeals are made to class consciousness by passing mimeographed lists of prominent and often notorious names under the heading of "Among those present."

The celebrities named on these sheets always occupy the most expensive seats and therefore qualify as American royalty. But nobody ever bothers to inquire the names of the people back yonder in the rush sections. They are just the crowd. Still it is reasonable to think that even in the breasts of the crowd ambition is fermenting and each yearns to join the celebrated people and hear the radio spokesman, reading from his list, say, "Here in this galaxy of famous folk, massed under the glimmer of sunshine, I notice none other than that illustrious Boston oyster-opener, Mr. Sleepout Guggin and wife." This would give Mr. Guggin, and wife, a pleasant agitation in that region of their being called Vanity.

* * *

Case of Walter O"Hara

LET THE CROWD BE COMFORTED. For it is doubtful that the estate of the so-called upper set is as enviable as it might seem from the turf levels at Suffolk Downs. The horse royalty can get as sick as any others, have their lumdy rows, divorces and legal busts ups. And no man, or woman, ever climbs to such pinnacles that he, or she, does not yearn to climb higher. Somewhere up is higher and that is where they wish to be.

I submit the case of Mr. Walter O'Hara, who until he was unhorsed as head of Narragansett's horse plant, sponsored a one man social set in his penthouse. He reared himself in an exclusive, solitary bracket. Yet even, then, exalted as he was, he was not satisfied. He bombarded the Boston press with wistful, self-laudatory pamphlets, such as the one entitled, "The Penalty of Leadership," which was a typographical sob about being hounded by envious rivals because of his industry, ingenuity and idealism.

For all his success and wealth Walter's innards were consumed by a high, jealous ache for things he did not have. And so, when he came apart, it was traceable to his cravings to be, not just Up, but higher than Up. So now he is back in the crowd again, envying what he once scorned. From his lowered position that is now Up.

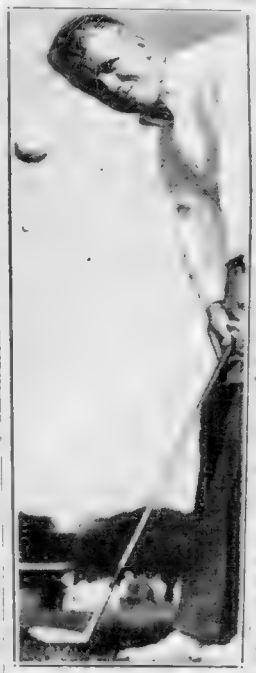
Well the ache of envy is a mortal heritage not restricted to any social level. And you might discover such an ache among the lofty seraphims of Suffolk horse society as they convene today and resume squinting from their purudsical balcony. But they are not satisfied Some wish to sip ambrosia and strum harps. Higher is Up!

YATES, CHAPMAN WIN AS BRITISH GOLF OPENS

By RUSSELL ANDERSON

HOYLAKE, Eng., May 22 (INS)—A double-barreled American [illegible] for the British amateur golf championship scored a two-ply bulls-eye today when Charlie Yates of Atlanta, the defending title-holder, and Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., emerged victorious over their British opponents.

Yates defeated Bruce Thompson 5 and 4 and Chapman [illegible] John Cowley, 4 and 3. Yates and Chapman were two of the six American entrants who survived the first round.



CHARLIE YATES

VINES PLAYS TOMORROW

[illegible] Ellsworth Vines [illegible] Crawley's opponent. Ed [illegible] of Pittsburgh, Pa., Cross [illegible] of New York and [illegible] of Staten Island, N. Y., will join in the [illegible] handicap [illegible]

First Round

HOYLAKE, Eng., May 23 (AP)—First round results:

Len Crawley defeated C. Boulton, 5 and 4.

S. L. McKinley defeated A. Stanley Anderson, 7 and 6.

R. G. Inglis, victor over America's Reynolds Smith last year, defeated Jocelyn Walker, one up, 19 holes.

[illegible] after which the unwieldy [illegible] for the 17 will be [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the turn today Yates was [illegible] up and was [illegible] of the [illegible] repeatedly. But he [illegible] settled down and was [illegible] to [illegible] on the back nine. The cards:

Out:
Yates	5	5	6	3	4	4	2	5	4—38
Thompson	6	5	5	3	4	4	3	5	4—39
In:
Yates	4	3	4	3	5
Thompson	6	3	5	4	6

YATES CHOICE

Although he has been off his game in practice, Yates was established as favorite and, carefree as ever, predicted today that the odds were not misplaced.

Just as Yates was forced to put on the pressure in the stretch, Chapman won in like fashion. The cards:

Out:
Chapman	4	4	5	3	4	x	3	4	5
Cowley	5	4	5	4	4	4	3	5	4—38
In:
Chapman	4	3	5	3	4	5
Cowley	5	4	4	3	5	5

Yates battles Donald Cameron, a Scot, in the second round tomorrow, and Chapman plays M. W. Budd.

Ellsworth Vines, former tennis champion, will not play until Wednesday.

Michael Scott, who won the title in 1933, lost 2 and 1 to Tom Edwards, Briton, in the sole upset today.

Jim Bruen, 19-year-old Irish star plays Len Crawley, once a Walker cup player tomorrow. A Crawley beat C. Boulton, 5 and 4, today.

Britons Heed Squawks, Shorten Course

HOYLAKE, England, May 22 (AP)—British officials shortened the Royal Liverpool course in response to a general protest by players today for the British amateur golf championship. Players were complaining about the length of the course.

Consequently, three holes on the back nine were shortened. The tenth was cut from 435 to 410 yards, the 14th from 511 to 485 and the 16th from 532 to 510.

Dick Shaughnessy Retains Skeet Title

Shaughnessy and Win I. Smith of Keene Falls, each broke 100 targets, but in the shootoff, Smith dropped one while Shaughnessy peled off another perfect 100.

For Sale: Wicket-Keeper! Can't Stand Yells or Jeers

CREWE, England, May 22 (AP)—The Alexandra Cricket Club will decide tonight what to do for a wicket keeper (1).

Its wicket keeper, Harold [illegible] soon left a game when, after he had missed an easy play [illegible] pitcher yelled:

"Pack your bag and get off the field!" (2)

"I shall never play cricket again in this league," Tortington announced. "Yells and jeers (3) from the crowd made my position at the wicket unbearable."

(2)—Baseball equivalent—"Throw the big bum out!"

(3)—Derogatory remarks are not considered cricket.

Tigers Better, Luck Terrible, Says Pilot

By JOE CASHMAN

"Our home-run kings pop up. The other guys' pitcher pops a homer over the wall. That's an example of the way our luck has been running since the race started."

[illegible] talking, he who was a coach under Mickey Cochrane and is Black Mike's successor as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

He is discussing and trying to explain the biggest baseball boner of the season, the passage of the Tigers in the American League.

[illegible] pitchers [illegible] forecast [illegible] Mack's team.

Yesterday's disappointment dwarfed the fact that Mr. Harris' first Fenway home game as manager of the Tigers was on the unlucky 13th.

[illegible] was [illegible] pennant [illegible] Joe [illegible] today.

PITCHING IMPROVED

[illegible] the Tigers [illegible] way [illegible] Detroit.

What's worry, what's [illegible] except [illegible] Lou Fonseca [illegible]

In my opinion," he says, "we're a better ball club than we were last season, when we played the best ball in the league over the last half of the campaign.

"Our pitching is better, we have more punch and we're better off for reserves."

You [illegible] Harris [illegible] course. He [illegible] in [illegible] day [illegible] [illegible] better [illegible] which to thank. It rates stronger than one which [illegible] [illegible] season.

"We just can't seem to get started," he continues. "When we get good pitching, our hitters don't hit or our fielders don't field. When we're hitting and fielding, our pitching is sour.

"If we're clicking on all cylinders, some lucky stiff on the other side gets a handle hit to wreck us.

"There's nothing we can do about it but hang in there and wait for our luck to change. It can't get any worse, which is some consolation.

"I'm sure we're a lot better than our present standing indicates, and we'll soon start proving it. If we aren't and don't we ought to hang up."

FIRST DIVISION CUB

On the surface at least there's no dissatisfaction or dissension in the ranks of the Tigers.

But one can't help but look for something other than bad breaks as the answer to this outfit being in the cellar.

Regardless of how its luck or [illegible] [illegible] with players and lifetime batting averages as Gehringer (.327), Greenberg (.325), Bell (.311), McCoskey (.310), Fox (.304), York (.301) and Kress (.280) has no business trailing outfits like the A's, Browns, Senators and White Sox.

GROVE IS BACK

Maybe the Tigers lack the pitching to be pennant contenders but with their strength [illegible] months they should revert to [illegible] of the first division in the American League as presently constituted.

But enough of the Tigers and their troubles.

There are more [illegible] [illegible] pic's.

Boston fans [illegible] 24,000 [illegible] saw the [illegible] [illegible] first time yesterday.

He had previously shown [illegible] Yanks of New York. [illegible] pitched and [illegible] had [illegible] [illegible] recovered from the [illegible] which caused [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Rickenbacker Sees New Speed Mark At Indianapolis

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, who fly-swatted 26 enemy airplanes to earth for Uncle Samuel in the World War, today informed us that posterity would inherit a new speed standard when the nation's carburetor cowboys automobile 500 miles around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway track on Memorial Day.

Floyd Roberts' 117.3 miles per hour mark which was set last year will be cracked by about three miles," prognosticated Capt. Eddie, president of the Eastern Airlines and proprietor of the posh park where the most gorgeous gasoline gallopers congregate annually. "The new record will be 120 or 121 or even better.

"About a half a dozen of the fellows will be in the battle when it gets down toward the finish.

"Among them ought to be Roberts, the Van Nuys, Calif., driver who won it in '38; Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis and Lou Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif.

"Meyer has been in the game a long time and knows it thoroughly—he's still dangerous."

APPLAUSE GETS 'EM

[illegible] a number of attractions [illegible] the guy who, when any one goes into the air, knows exactly what to do with it.

They go into the game for publicity just like a runner, a baseball player, any athlete, in fact. Then there's the lust for [illegible] in red blooded youth.

The drivers are the engineers of the automotive industry. Many of them have ideas of quick, new ways to develop certain automobile parts.

"I became a race driver primarily because of my interest in such ideas—four wheel brakes, for instance.

"The speedway is a fast method of developing those ideas which must be tested under terrific strain.

"Ordinarily, developments of that nature would take months or weeks. If they click it's a stepping-stone to a much higher position in the industry.

"Pilots must have concentration, agile minds, quick reflexes, good vision and physical toughness. The nervous system takes a bad beating.

"The lungs and the stomach are subjected to special stress because of the constant vibration of the car."

AUTOS SAFER TODAY

We requested a comparison of hazards encountered in the 500 [illegible] and those faced [illegible] ing an airplane.

"In the old days the auto grind used to be more dangerous than the plane," said Captain Eddie. "But now it's reversed.

"We've introduced so many safety factors at the speedway that even though the pace is much swifter than it was it nevertheless is safer.

"It's rough enough, though," Captain Rickenbacker scotched any false notions which may have been budding in our skull. "I'll be out there for the race—I'm leaving Wednesday."

BILLION DOLLAR BOOKIE INDUSTRY TOTTERING

Turf Midases Flee Before Federal Probe

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—America's biggest racket dynasty since prohibition—the multi-billion-dollar race track bookie industry—appeared to be tottering today and about to collapse under relentless pressure of Department of Justice agents.

Private telephone wires to the big shot "bookies" operating headquarters in Hoboken and Jersey City, N. J., were being hastily snatched out, and trucks were being loaded with "office" records, both there and in midtown Manhattan "pay off" offices of the syndicate gamblers.

Mayor Frank Hague, Democratic boss of New Jersey, is reported to have given the word that commencing today "no bets by telephone are to be taken any place in the state."

Hordes of J. Edgar Hoover's famous G-men were reported scooting about New York and Chicago, trying to locate private records of the gamblers who, following Attorney-General Frank Murphy's activities of last week, saw "the handwriting on the wall" and began scuttling to safety.

ERICKSON ARRESTED

Telephone company officials from whom the bookmakers lease their private wires have not been notified of the discontinuance of their service except in the case of Frank Erickson, former Coney Island singing waiter, who graduated into the nation's biggest race track booker, handling hundreds of thousands of dollars daily.

Erickson, with all his records, fled from his New Jersey operating headquarters and his Manhattan payoff offices a day or so after he was arrested on orders of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia as an "ordinary vagrant."

Today Erickson, also under investigation by federal agents as to his comparatively small income tax payments in recent years, was to be arraigned in Long Island City Magistrates' court on the vagrancy charge.

Following his arrest, Erickson, who lived in a $150,000 Forest Hills mansion, was indicted on a first degree perjury charge based on his application for a pistol permit.

He has been arrested on gambling charges on many occasions, but in his application signed a statement that he had no police record.

BIGGEST U. S. RACKET

Mayor LaGuardia's blast at the bookmaker followed an investigation by Commissioner of Investigations Herlands, who reported that several prominent officials, including judges, policemen and other state and city employes were intimate friends of Erickson and his regular customers.

The name of one New York Supreme Court justice is reported on Erickson's list as a debtor of more than $15,000.

Behind the drive of the G-men is the Federal Communications Commission, which two years ago began an investigation of telephone company services to the the widespread gambling syndicate.

Testifying before a FCC committee authorized by Congress, Andrew W. Kavanaugh, director of public safety, of Miami, Fla., and then president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, named the exclusive bookmakers' service as the "biggest racket in the nation."

Harvard Steps Out To Clinch Baseball Crown This Week

The team that wins the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League title this year probably will do it this week, according to the Associated Press.

Three teams still are in the running—Harvard, Cornell and Dartmouth, in that order in the standing. They hook up in two games that may settle the championship.

Harvard, which took a 12-3 drubbing from Cornell at Cambridge three weeks ago, pays the Big Red team a return visit Wednesday. And on Saturday Dartmouth plays at Cornell.

The Ithacans have still another game on their schedule this week, meeting Princeton today in what was to have been the second game of Saturday's doubleheader. It was rained out after Cornell had won the opener, 4-1.

PRINCETON OUT

That comes close to cleaning up the program for the pennant contenders.

Harvard has its two annual games with Yale, and Cornell and Dartmouth meet for a second time at Hanover June 17. But if Dartmouth loses to Cornell Saturday it will be all over for the Indians, and if Cornell is beaten even once its chances of passing Harvard will be very slim.

Princeton moved into fourth place in the standing last week by trimming Columbia twice, but lost its faint chance of taking the title in Saturday's defeat. The Tigers also play Pennsylvania at Princeton Saturday.

Columbia also lost a pair of slugfests to Yale last week, sending the New Yorkers to the league cellar and advancing Yale to fifth, but the pennant contenders couldn't make any gains. Harvard and Dartmouth both trounced Penn, the crimson doing it 10-8 Friday and Dartmouth 17-4 Saturday.

WONSON LEADS

But with all that hitting, Harvard's Ulysses (Red) Lupien continued to set the pace in the individual competition for the Charles H. Blair bat. He hit four times for eight bases in five trips to the plate against Penn.

That brought his average to .485 against .444 for Ned Hein of Dartmouth and .412 for George Folzer of Cornell, his total bases to 25 and his runs batted-in total to 14.

Hal Wonson of Dartmouth recorded his third pitching victory without a loss to hold top place in the mound department. Cornell's sophomore Walt Sickles and Harvard's Tom Healey, with one and two defeats, respectively, each hung up victory No. 5.

Strecker, Casey Have Powerful Park Outfits

Entering the third week of operation, the Boston Park League, which provides after-supper diamond diversion to thousands of baseball enthusiasts at municipal ball parks each evening, has settled down to the long grind.

Lou Strecker in Roslindale has a group of veterans, players who have proved their ability in past league campaigns, and who have won eight consecutive games.

Dick Casey's club has been built on a fabric of Park League stars such as the Catarius brothers, Johnny Guluzion, Charles Bird and others, while two new Casey burlers have rung up one victory each, Settino and Mussio.

EAST BOSTON STRONG

East Boston's entry in the Park League this year has been the best outfit in years to come from the Noddle Island and has played as a unit in lower Park Leagues for several years.

A smoothly working machine is captained by Frank Hyland, and good pitching is provided by Tom Fredricks, Ed Kelly, Bob Hess and the Northeastern baseball coach, Herb Gallagher.

St. Augustines of South Boston, under the very capable management of Billie Benson, have an all-star studded wagon in players such as "Rube" Dyer, who is not only a leading backstop of the league but also a confirmed .400 hitter.

Lukocus of the Saints is also a heavy sticker, having transferred from the Brighton Civics, where last year he established a home run record that to date has been unparalleled in Park League history.

John McDonald is by far the best shortstop in the league.

Known to be late starters, Johnny DeLang's Holy Name A. A. of Roslindale, who last year reached the finals, only to be edged out by the St. Augustines, have won only three out of eight games played.

Johnny this year misses the services of his ace twirler of '38, Curt Fullerton, who lost only one game in Park League competition up until this year.

FULLERTON SHIFTED

Fullerton is now playing with the Navy Yard A. A. Fielding a young aggregation this year these boys are bound to pay dividends in the next few weeks.

Oakie O'Connell, who starred for the Mass. Knitting Mills last year, and Walter Redden, also of the '38 Silk Sox, are two of the most valuable players in the loop in addition to Maguire, Welch and Kallenburg, who also fared very well in past campaigns.

Although the Navy Yard, St. Catherines and the Murphy Club have showed little opposition to late, these clubs are planning to strengthen in the next few weeks and the race will be much closer.

The surprise of the week goes to the South Boston T. C., a group of young boys who knocked off the St. Augustines twice in the same week, which is worthy of honor in any semi-pro league of the country.

Manager Coolidge of the City Point Club deserves a lot of credit in developing these youngsters, who are going to be a major threat for the rest of the season.

Olympets Play New Haven Club

A sudden shift in plans by Walter Brown, general manager of the Garden, will force the Boston Olympets to face one of their severest tests on opening night.

After watching his Pets work out, Walter decided that the local team was ready to face the New York Roverettes on June 1 at the Garden.

In meeting the New Yorkers the Boston girls will be facing the top team of the East.

In the meantime the Olympets are driving ahead for their tilt at New Haven, Friday. The pitching department is still the big headache, but the improvement shown by Mary Donnelly, the Framingham miss, and Mary "Lefty" Pratt of Quincy, has been most encouraging.

500-Mile Race Tests Waited

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22 (AP)—With 16 drivers qualified at speeds ranging from 130.138 down to 126.935 miles an hour, the remainder of the field for this year's 500-mile speedway race tuned their mounts in preparation for the resumption of speed trials Wednesday afternoon.

Only Babe Stapp was able to make a complete qualifying run at Sunday's trials as a sudden downpour drenched the track. Stapp turned in a speed of 125 miles an hour.

DO YOU DESIRE GOOD HEARING?

Are you having difficulty in hearing ordinary conversations? Do you feel embarrassed because you can't hear clearly what people are saying to you? Do you realize that this continual straining to catch the words that are spoken results in many cases in irreparable nervous strain?

In most cases of deafness it is no longer necessary to live in a world of uncertainty and miss half of life.

Community Opticians Hearing-Aid Department now offer the new VOXICON.

A Free Audiometer test by a friendly, sympathetic specialist will determine just which of the 149 combinations of the new VOXICON will enable you to hear clearly again.

A tiny, inconspicuous button-piece concealed behind the ear will make your friends as happy as you will be when you can hear again. No more need for irritable shouting. You'll take part in every conversation with ease.

The new VOXICON—the latest scientific development to restore hearing sells for one-third less than other ordinary instruments. It will be yours for as little as $1.00 weekly.

You owe it to yourself to visit Community Opticians Hearing-Aid Department without delay and hear clearly again.
